

VAUNDERLIAP COOLIDGE; BANKRUPT RAPS DAUGHERTY

BANKRUPT TO 'PROVE' LATTER'S RESIGNATION WAS ASKED

Continued from First Page.

advising the President against "white washing" Daugherty. Vanderlip indicated in a speech in New York last night that he had advised the President in a letter, but the White House has no record of it. With reference to the White House denial that any letter had been received from Vanderlip advising against "white washing" Daugherty, the financier declared he had not said he had written President Coolidge on the subject at all. "What I said was I had tried to advise against such a procedure," Vanderlip said. "I asked a friend, who planned to see the President, to advise him along such a step. Whether he communicated this message or not, I do not know."

Oil Deal to Reach More Leaders

Washington, March 3 (U.N.S.)—The trial of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty before an admirably hostile Senate Judiciary committee may prove the political sensation of a decade.

It is entirely possible that more than one political election will be forced to rattle its bones in the light of publicity before the investigation of Daugherty's conduct of the department is completed. Friends and foes of the Attorney-General are equally engaged in piling up evidence and planning moves.

While, on the face of the record, only Harry M. Daugherty himself is on trial on charges of malfeasance in office and neglect of duty, actually, it was admitted today by political leaders of both sides, the trial of the Attorney-General is indirectly a trial of the Republican administration.

W. C. T. U. Home Town Excited Over Striking Oil

Examine, Ill., March 3 (U.N.S.)—The home town of the W. C. T. U. is all excited again. Oil was struck by a well drilled on the premises of the W. C. T. U. and had been expected. Excitement is strong for water.

Last week, the town was excited over liquor raids, led by a minister. Liquor was found in scores of places in the claret of the dry forces.

political maneuver, inaugurated just as a presidential campaign is getting under way. Broderick, chairman, is to be in the open.

The committee will have to decide whether to extend the present inquiry into many phases of government activity—the prohibition bureau, the Treasury Department, the Internal Revenue Bureau, the Shipping Board, the Alien Property Bureau, with all of whose affairs the Department of Justice has been one time or another been concerned in matters of judicial opinion, prosecution, etc.

The Brookline committee already has taken the responsibility for coming around the capital.

The Democrats are confident of getting a "conviction" not actually proving malfeasance on the part of the attorney general, at least they are confident of proving such a lack of administration that President Coolidge will be forced to do what he has thus far been unwilling to do, request the resignation of the attorney general in writing.

CALL PROBE A "PLOT"

On the other hand the friends of Daugherty are equally confident that the investigation will be fruitless, "so far as getting anything on Daugherty" is concerned.

Inspired, perhaps, by the stentorian attitude of the attorney general, they believe that before the investigation is many days old they can "show it up" as a light sensation.

IT'S A BIG SCENE OF FOUR DARING RESCUES

'FAIR PLAY' FOR DAUGHERTY

Declares Facts Should Be Produced in the Case; Backs Mellon's Tax Plan

Continued from First Page.

with the facts in each case before he took his stand.

LOGGE'S ATTITUDE

"Senator Lodge has denounced Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

WARNS OF FEUDS

"However, there is danger of the investigation generating a feud of medium for the vesting of political and personal animosity."

"The importance of punishing the guilty makes it highly important to get to the bottom of the matter."

"Attorney General Daugherty is either corrupt or he is not. If he is, the facts that prove it ought to be produced. If he is not, he ought not to be subjected to a trial."

"I have been told on very high authority that Secretary Daugherty consulted the legal department of the government; that he consulted Secretary Fall, and stated that he knew Secretary Fall had said on the bench in New Mexico, and that he believed he was a lawyer at that time."

"What do you think of the Democratic plan of taxation?" was asked Mr. Hearst.

"I do not think the Democratic party has any plan of taxation. It has a plan of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"And the trouble with the Democratic plan is that it is not a very good plan of opposition."

FOR MELLON BILL

"Secretary Mellon has reasons for his plan—objects that he definitely wishes to accomplish and arguments as to how and why his plan will accomplish those objects."

"And Secretary Mellon is an able and experienced financier. It would seem as if he were the ideal Secretary of the Treasury."

"And there has not been since the Revolutionary War any Secretary when the country needed an able and experienced financier."

"It has been said that the Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"The Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

SCENE OF FOUR DARING RESCUES

'FAIR PLAY' FOR DAUGHERTY

Declares Facts Should Be Produced in the Case; Backs Mellon's Tax Plan

Continued from First Page.

with the facts in each case before he took his stand.

LOGGE'S ATTITUDE

"Senator Lodge has denounced Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

WARNS OF FEUDS

"However, there is danger of the investigation generating a feud of medium for the vesting of political and personal animosity."

"The importance of punishing the guilty makes it highly important to get to the bottom of the matter."

"Attorney General Daugherty is either corrupt or he is not. If he is, the facts that prove it ought to be produced. If he is not, he ought not to be subjected to a trial."

"I have been told on very high authority that Secretary Daugherty consulted the legal department of the government; that he consulted Secretary Fall, and stated that he knew Secretary Fall had said on the bench in New Mexico, and that he believed he was a lawyer at that time."

"What do you think of the Democratic plan of taxation?" was asked Mr. Hearst.

"I do not think the Democratic party has any plan of taxation. It has a plan of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"And the trouble with the Democratic plan is that it is not a very good plan of opposition."

FOR MELLON BILL

"Secretary Mellon has reasons for his plan—objects that he definitely wishes to accomplish and arguments as to how and why his plan will accomplish those objects."

"And Secretary Mellon is an able and experienced financier. It would seem as if he were the ideal Secretary of the Treasury."

"And there has not been since the Revolutionary War any Secretary when the country needed an able and experienced financier."

"It has been said that the Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"The Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

SCENE OF FOUR DARING RESCUES

'FAIR PLAY' FOR DAUGHERTY

Declares Facts Should Be Produced in the Case; Backs Mellon's Tax Plan

Continued from First Page.

with the facts in each case before he took his stand.

LOGGE'S ATTITUDE

"Senator Lodge has denounced Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

WARNS OF FEUDS

"However, there is danger of the investigation generating a feud of medium for the vesting of political and personal animosity."

"The importance of punishing the guilty makes it highly important to get to the bottom of the matter."

"Attorney General Daugherty is either corrupt or he is not. If he is, the facts that prove it ought to be produced. If he is not, he ought not to be subjected to a trial."

"I have been told on very high authority that Secretary Daugherty consulted the legal department of the government; that he consulted Secretary Fall, and stated that he knew Secretary Fall had said on the bench in New Mexico, and that he believed he was a lawyer at that time."

"What do you think of the Democratic plan of taxation?" was asked Mr. Hearst.

"I do not think the Democratic party has any plan of taxation. It has a plan of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"And the trouble with the Democratic plan is that it is not a very good plan of opposition."

FOR MELLON BILL

"Secretary Mellon has reasons for his plan—objects that he definitely wishes to accomplish and arguments as to how and why his plan will accomplish those objects."

"And Secretary Mellon is an able and experienced financier. It would seem as if he were the ideal Secretary of the Treasury."

"And there has not been since the Revolutionary War any Secretary when the country needed an able and experienced financier."

"It has been said that the Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"The Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

SCENE OF FOUR DARING RESCUES

'FAIR PLAY' FOR DAUGHERTY

Declares Facts Should Be Produced in the Case; Backs Mellon's Tax Plan

Continued from First Page.

with the facts in each case before he took his stand.

LOGGE'S ATTITUDE

"Senator Lodge has denounced Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

WARNS OF FEUDS

"However, there is danger of the investigation generating a feud of medium for the vesting of political and personal animosity."

"The importance of punishing the guilty makes it highly important to get to the bottom of the matter."

"Attorney General Daugherty is either corrupt or he is not. If he is, the facts that prove it ought to be produced. If he is not, he ought not to be subjected to a trial."

"I have been told on very high authority that Secretary Daugherty consulted the legal department of the government; that he consulted Secretary Fall, and stated that he knew Secretary Fall had said on the bench in New Mexico, and that he believed he was a lawyer at that time."

"What do you think of the Democratic plan of taxation?" was asked Mr. Hearst.

"I do not think the Democratic party has any plan of taxation. It has a plan of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"And the trouble with the Democratic plan is that it is not a very good plan of opposition."

FOR MELLON BILL

"Secretary Mellon has reasons for his plan—objects that he definitely wishes to accomplish and arguments as to how and why his plan will accomplish those objects."

"And Secretary Mellon is an able and experienced financier. It would seem as if he were the ideal Secretary of the Treasury."

"And there has not been since the Revolutionary War any Secretary when the country needed an able and experienced financier."

"It has been said that the Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"The Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

SCENE OF FOUR DARING RESCUES

'FAIR PLAY' FOR DAUGHERTY

Declares Facts Should Be Produced in the Case; Backs Mellon's Tax Plan

Continued from First Page.

with the facts in each case before he took his stand.

LOGGE'S ATTITUDE

"Senator Lodge has denounced Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

WARNS OF FEUDS

"However, there is danger of the investigation generating a feud of medium for the vesting of political and personal animosity."

"The importance of punishing the guilty makes it highly important to get to the bottom of the matter."

"Attorney General Daugherty is either corrupt or he is not. If he is, the facts that prove it ought to be produced. If he is not, he ought not to be subjected to a trial."

"I have been told on very high authority that Secretary Daugherty consulted the legal department of the government; that he consulted Secretary Fall, and stated that he knew Secretary Fall had said on the bench in New Mexico, and that he believed he was a lawyer at that time."

"What do you think of the Democratic plan of taxation?" was asked Mr. Hearst.

"I do not think the Democratic party has any plan of taxation. It has a plan of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"And the trouble with the Democratic plan is that it is not a very good plan of opposition."

FOR MELLON BILL

"Secretary Mellon has reasons for his plan—objects that he definitely wishes to accomplish and arguments as to how and why his plan will accomplish those objects."

"And Secretary Mellon is an able and experienced financier. It would seem as if he were the ideal Secretary of the Treasury."

"And there has not been since the Revolutionary War any Secretary when the country needed an able and experienced financier."

"It has been said that the Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"The Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

SCENE OF FOUR DARING RESCUES

'FAIR PLAY' FOR DAUGHERTY

Declares Facts Should Be Produced in the Case; Backs Mellon's Tax Plan

Continued from First Page.

with the facts in each case before he took his stand.

LOGGE'S ATTITUDE

"Senator Lodge has denounced Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge has evidence against the Attorney-General, and perhaps he has not."

"Perhaps Senator Lodge does not like Attorney General Daugherty, but he has not produced any facts. If he has them, why does he not produce them? The public is entitled to know all that Senator Lodge knows."

WARNS OF FEUDS

"However, there is danger of the investigation generating a feud of medium for the vesting of political and personal animosity."

"The importance of punishing the guilty makes it highly important to get to the bottom of the matter."

"Attorney General Daugherty is either corrupt or he is not. If he is, the facts that prove it ought to be produced. If he is not, he ought not to be subjected to a trial."

"I have been told on very high authority that Secretary Daugherty consulted the legal department of the government; that he consulted Secretary Fall, and stated that he knew Secretary Fall had said on the bench in New Mexico, and that he believed he was a lawyer at that time."

"What do you think of the Democratic plan of taxation?" was asked Mr. Hearst.

"I do not think the Democratic party has any plan of taxation. It has a plan of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"And the trouble with the Democratic plan is that it is not a very good plan of opposition."

FOR MELLON BILL

"Secretary Mellon has reasons for his plan—objects that he definitely wishes to accomplish and arguments as to how and why his plan will accomplish those objects."

"And Secretary Mellon is an able and experienced financier. It would seem as if he were the ideal Secretary of the Treasury."

"And there has not been since the Revolutionary War any Secretary when the country needed an able and experienced financier."

"It has been said that the Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

"The Democratic party is a party of opposition, without any genuine plan of taxation."

MRS. ASA G. Candler IS SET FREE AFTER ATLANTA LIQUOR RAID

SHADOWED BY 'GOGA COLAKING'

Wife and Company Guiltless; Third Member of Party to Stand Trial

Atlanta, Ga., March 3.—The case against Mrs. A. G. Candler and W. J. Keeling was dismissed and W. J. Stoddard was bound over for another trial under bond of $300 today when they were given a hearing in Police Court on charges of having been in a place where intoxicants were being drunk.

Stoddard, of the Georgia State Police, was in court when the case was called. Mrs. Candler entered the room accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. V. Brown.

The charge is violation of the Georgia Liquor Law, which was passed in 1919. Mrs. Candler was arrested on February 3 in her apartment house. A small quantity of liquor was found in her possession.

CHIEF GAINS ADMISION

The defendants pleaded not guilty. Chief of Police Beavers testified that he led the raid upon a complaint made to him by Mrs. Candler.

"I got a call to come to a certain place from a party who was shadowing Mrs. Candler and W. J. Stoddard," said Chief Beavers. "I had assigned one to the case and at the request of the family I kept it a secret."

"The men shadowing Mrs. Candler and Stoddard were in an apartment on the second floor," he said. "I went to the apartment and saw Mrs. Candler and Stoddard. I saw a door leading to a room which was shut. I grabbed the doorknob and opened it. Mrs. Candler was holding the door. I saw Mr. Stoddard in his shirt sleeves."

SEIZED BOTTLE OF LIQUOR

"I said, 'what is your name?' and he replied, 'If you tell me who you are here, I'll tell you,'" the chief said.

"I said, 'I guess Mr. Candler sent you here. I don't care, there are plenty of other places doing like this,' was Mrs. Candler's comment," the chief said.

A bottle containing whiskey was on the table, he continued. "Whose apartment is this?" I asked Mrs. Candler.

"It is Mrs. Kimble's and she is in Decatur today," Mrs. Candler told me.

"I then brought them to the police station in my car, where bond was signed," the chief concluded. A bottle containing a small quantity of whiskey was introduced in evidence.

"It's good stuff," the chief declared, as he held the bottle up to the light.

"They all told me they had drunk some of it," the chief said. The case-examination, Chief Beavers said that Mrs. Candler was represented by a "Mr. Tom Pitta, representing Mr. Candler."

"Mr. Pitta had been shadowing Mrs. Candler for some time," the chief added.

Chief Beavers admitted that Pitta requested that Mrs. Candler be taken to the police station, as "he wanted her name on the docket," he said.

MOVIE ACTRESS IN FIGHT FOR LIFE

Marie Prevost star in serials in her film Coast home with influenza which threaten to develop into pneumonia.

Los Angeles, March 3.—(Universal)—Marie Prevost, motion picture star, was stricken with influenza and is in a serious condition at her Willshire home, according to an announcement by officials of Warner Brothers' studio.

Attending physicians are taking every precaution to prevent the illness from developing into pneumonia.

Mae Prevost has been working in connection with her new production and that lessened her power of resistance, it was stated. Filming of the picture has been abandoned, pending her recovery.

WOLLASTON WAR ON SHORE DRIVE "GAS" STATION

Spirited Protest to Be Made at the State Fire Marshal Hearing Thursday

Wollaston residents, who live along the Quincy Shore Drive at Wollaston Beach, are in arms over an attempt to erect a gasoline filling station at the corner of Webster street and the boulevard.

At a hearing before the State fire marshal at the State House Thursday afternoon at least 100 of the citizens with counsel will appear in protest.

Boulevard residents along the shore always have declared against filling stations, lunch cars, soft drink stands and all other attempts to commercialize the shore drive.

Several weeks ago it was discovered that Arthur E. Bolls of No. 38 India street, Wollaston, has secured a permit from the Metropolitan District Commission for an entrance leading from the boulevard to a filling station at Webster street and the drive.

While residents were discussing ways and means Bolls applied to the city clerk of Quincy for a permit to erect and operate a filling station at the Webster street junction of the boulevard. Two weeks ago a public hearing was held at Quincy and about 15 Wollaston beach residents protested.

A week ago residents petitioned the Metropolitan District Commission to revoke the permit already given Bolls. At a hearing Thursday a petition was presented with given names. Attorney J. Weston Allen, former State Attorney General, appeared as counsel for Bolls.

The commission took the matter under advisement, but turned down the petition for lack of evidence to cause revocation of the permit.

On the same day the Quincy city clerk rejected the application of Bolls for a permit to erect the filling station and operate it.

Bolls immediately appealed to the State fire marshal and a hearing is being held next Thursday at 2 o'clock at Room 24, State House.

YOUTH GETS 4 MONTHS FOR ANNOYING GIRL

Joseph Spinale, nineteen, of South Market street, charged with annoying Lillian Jensen, sixteen, was sentenced today to four months at the House of Correction by Judge Wood in Municipal court.

CHARGE PRISONER BIT PATROLMAN

Arthur W. Nelson, colored, of Dartmouth street, charged with mayhem, was held in $2,000 bond by Judge Wood in Municipal court today. Hiding in the police patrol, Nelson, it alleged, bit Patrolman Sullivan on the thumb.

RAID SHORE DRIVE THROUGH FROM SEA

Villagers Seek Contraband After Fight; the Crew Escapes Shots

Gloucester, March 3.—Fisher-men of a new sort—bottle fishermen—are today thronging the shores of Cape Ann, waiting for the sea to cast up its cargo of whiskey tossed overboard by the fleet of small run-runners during the night.

Run-runners, chatting at a long period of enforced idleness, due to activities of the Coast Guard, police and government agents, cast dice in the winds Sunday night, and a small fleet of small boats pulled away from the shore and left rather ships anchored off the coast.

One of these boats, the C-5278, was ridden with police and Coast Guard boats and was forced ashore, but the crew escaped.

It is known that during the night the C-5278 and a number of other small run-runners found their way to jail at least a part of their cargoes and today throngs of men and boys, and some few women, are patrolling the shore in the hope that the sea will wash up some of the contraband.

The C-5278 was encountered off the Annquam River. The Coast Guard vessel drove close to her and landed her high and dry.

Secure in the inkly darkness, the run-runners laughed derisively at their pursuers and sang and whistled as they piled cases of liquor into the waiting truck.

"Good-bye, boys!" one of them yelled. "See you later on Star Row."

When dawn broke the police party found the C-5278 stranded. Thirteen cases of Scotch were their consolation prize.

GALLIVAN PREDICTS BOOST IN POSTAL PAY

Washington, March 3.—Commenting on reports that Congress will not increase pay to postal employees, C. O. G. Gallivan, C. O. G. of Massachusetts, said today:

"It is unthinkable that Congress should refuse to increase the pay of these public servants, in view of the fact that it is well known throughout the United States that postal employees are not getting a living wage, especially those in Boston. These men are among the finest types of our citizenship and I believe that the nation will speedily pass this legislation."

COXES ND FULLERS WILL TEND BALL

Governor and Mrs. Channing J. Cox, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller and many other State officials and their wives will attend the first annual ball of the Police Square Club of a few weeks ago, which takes place Wednesday evening.

The ball will be held at the State Ballroom, after supper, with a concert from 8 o'clock to 9, the grand march starting at 9 o'clock.

Grand intermission exhibitions of dancing will be given by Miss Grace Jones of Boston and Dodo Cannons of Arlington.

Dry Law Cases Are Gaining Yearly in Bay State

Washington, March 3.—Prosecutions for violations of the 18th Amendment are increasing year by year in Massachusetts according to the U. S. Department of Justice.

In 1920 there were 140 prosecutions, with 47 convictions, in 1921 154 prosecutions with 76 convictions and in 1922 259 prosecutions with 103 convictions.

Nearly $100,000 in fines were assessed during these four years. Jail sentences aggregated seven years, four months and eleven days.

High Prices Drive Londoners to Coffee for Morning 'Nip'

London, March 3.—Owing to the heavy duty, making a "nip" of some sort a piece instead of a penny or two, the early morning workers at the docks and markets are taking their cups of coffee and tea without the "nip."

Records show that the consumption of rum has declined by 1,200,000 proof gallons in five years.

WORKERS MOBBED IN CHICAGO STREETS

Chicago, March 3.—(U.S.S.) Violence in connection with the strike of the women garment workers broke out afresh today when mobs of some sort and some attacked men who failed to answer the women's call.

One crowd attacked Ruth Bodger as she was on her way to work, beat her and tore her clothes off, leaving her almost nude on the sidewalk. Radicals were driven out.

Police Save Woman From Portland Fire

Portland, Me., March 3.—Mrs. C. R. Mullen, partially overcome by smoke, was carried to the street, and saved by police.

She was taken to the hospital, where she is recovering from her injuries. She was rescued from a fire in the three-story tenement house at No. 12 Central street.

Patrolman Walker and Ridge discovered the blaze and rescued Mrs. Mullen.

Mrs. Mullen told of having seen the fire.

CLEAR WIFE OF BANKER HARRIS

Witness Declares She Is Not Susie Lee He Knew in the South

New York, March 3.—Susie Lee of Memphis, Tenn., was not the Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris who appeared in Supreme Court today as defendant in the marriage annulment suit brought by her husband, Beverly D. Harris. It was testified by Oscar Elliott Hysmith, Registrar of Stewart County, Tennessee.

Hysmith, taking the stand to supplement a deposition read into the record several days ago, declared he had known Susie "Stamella" Lee since 1904, when he met her at Dunn's Mills, Tenn. She was sixteen years old then, and lived with her mother, Mrs. Samuel C. Lee, her sister, Mrs. Husb, and her cousin, Samuel Lee.

Mr. Hysmith, according to the witness, said that he had seen the woman in the South.

Cent In Throat Of Child Five Days Is Removed

Camden, N.J., March 3.—A specialist removed a penny from the throat of Mildred Whittle, three, where it had been lodged for nearly five days. Mildred swallowed the penny without ill effects.

Mildred's mother said that she had seen the penny in the child's mouth.

She was taken to the hospital, where she is recovering from her injuries.

She was rescued from a fire in the three-story tenement house at No. 12 Central street.

Patrolman Walker and Ridge discovered the blaze and rescued Mrs. Mullen.

Mrs. Mullen told of having seen the fire.

She was taken to the hospital, where she is recovering from her injuries.

She was rescued from a fire in the three-story tenement house at No. 12 Central street.

Patrolman Walker and Ridge discovered the blaze and rescued Mrs. Mullen.

Mrs. Mullen told of having seen the fire.

She was taken to the hospital, where she is recovering from her injuries.

She was rescued from a fire in the three-story tenement house at No. 12 Central street.

Patrolman Walker and Ridge discovered the blaze and rescued Mrs. Mullen.

Mrs. Mullen told of having seen the fire.

She was taken to the hospital, where she is recovering from her injuries.

She was rescued from a fire in the three-story tenement house at No. 12 Central street.

Patrolman Walker and Ridge discovered the blaze and rescued Mrs. Mullen.

Mrs. Mullen told of having seen the fire.

She was taken to the hospital, where she is recovering from her injuries.

She was rescued from a fire in the three-story tenement house at No. 12 Central street.

Patrolman Walker and Ridge discovered the blaze and rescued Mrs. Mullen.

Mrs. Mullen told of having seen the fire.

She was taken to the hospital, where she is recovering from her injuries.

She was rescued from a fire in the three-story tenement house at No. 12 Central street.

FIREMEN ARMED BY BUTLER

"Shoot to Kill" Orders Issued in Campaign Against Bandits

Philadelphia, Pa., March 3.—"Shoot to kill" orders were issued today to city firemen, armed under a recent order of Director of Public Safety Butler, in an effort to suppress banditry.

In addition the director stated he planned to bring the number of armed firemen up to 1,000 to give maximum assistance to the police.

"I'll turn them loose and tell them to use their weapons to shoot and kill any bandit who shows his head," Butler declared.

This decision followed a whirling tour of the city last night in which he discovered three districts in which bandits were not on their toes.

GILCHRIST'S BASEMENT STORE

OPERATED ON SELF-ACTING REDUCTION PLAN

No Well Orders

TUESDAY AT 9 A. M.

Large manufacturer needed cash!

54 Dresses $1.69

Over 20 styles to choose from

Size 16 to 44

All wool sport flannel checks, rich canton crepes, and some flat crepes, lustrous satins, knitted sport dresses, novelty plaids, striped novelty fabrics, jacquard and crepe combinations, plaid knit materials (glos), taffetas and others.

30,000 INCREASE IN IRISH POPULATION

Dublin, March 3.—Official reports put the population of the Free State at 3,100,000. These figures are approximate, but they show an increase in the population of more than 30,000 in ten years.

Dry Law Cases Are Gaining Yearly in Bay State

Washington, March 3.—Prosecutions for violations of the 18th Amendment are increasing year by year in Massachusetts according to the U. S. Department of Justice.

In 1920 there were 140 prosecutions, with 47 convictions, in 1921 154 prosecutions with 76 convictions and in 1922 259 prosecutions with 103 convictions.

Nearly $100,000 in fines were assessed during these four years. Jail sentences aggregated seven years, four months and eleven days.

TUESDAY

Double Legal Stamps

Representing a 5% Discount

GILCHRIST CO.

SOCONY

GASOLINE & MOTOR OIL

Uniform Quality—Best Results

STANDARD OIL CO. OF NEW YORK, 16 BROADWAY

Society Notes

REV. AND MRS. ENDICOTT PEABODY have leased the new home at Major Channing Street in Hamilton, Bermuda.

Mrs. James M. Jackson and her daughter, Miss Ellen Jackson, of Beacon street, recently spent a few days in New York at the Hotel Lorraine.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Baylis are arriving this week at Hot Springs.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond of the Gloucester Summer colony, was in the receiving line for the fourth "small and early" given the other evening by the Junior League of Washington.

William H. Goodwin of Commonwealth avenue will take part in "The Choice," which the Post-Right Club is putting on Wednesday and Thursday of this week at State Hall.

SWANSDOWN

A superb, smooth, creamy white flour made from the choicest grains of hard spring wheat. For half a century it has been milled for us by the same skilled millers, who, with the pride of master craftsmen, have been content with producing nothing but the best.

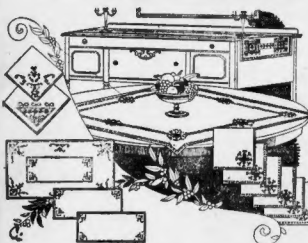

The quality is such that to a multitude of New England homes the name "SWANSDOWN" has become a byword for

The Best Bread-Maker
S. S. PIERCE CO.

T. D. WHITNEY COMPANY

The Oldest American Linen Specialty House
Established 1799

Rare Values in Italian Linens

The embroidery and cutwork are unusually exquisite; each article is distinctively designed and every stitch and thread shows quality.

These embroidered cut linens are as durable as they are beautiful; it is not easy to secure for a few dollars so permanently fine an investment for the home. Included are tea sets, luncheon sets, scarfs, table covers, boudoir pillows and dresser sets. If you have an especially fine old bureau or table that you want to "bring out" one of these scarfs will do it.

Thirteen-inch Napkins, beautifully embroidered, with "Amor" edges, many different patterns. Six for $4.50
Tea Sets regularly selling for $15—now 36 in. cloth and six napkins.....$10

Table Covers in the new sizes—a most important value. 36x72, 72x90 and 72x108. These we have never before sold under $15 to $85.....Now, $30-$65

Scarfs in all sizes to match—a wonderful value for the money.....$5 to $8
Dresser or Buffet Sets. One 12x18 and two 6x12 oblongs.

All are an obviously "hand-made" at first glance; so different from commonplace sets.....$3.25 a set
Luncheon Sets. One 18x54 scarf and twelve 12x18 service mats.....$14

Oblong Dobbies, 12x18.....75c to 1.25
Cloths, 36x36, $4.00; 45x45, $7.50; 54x54, $8.50
Pure linen hand-made Syrian point Luncheon Sets—13 pieces.....$6.50

Scarfs 18x36 to 18x72.....$2.00 to $4.00
Square cloths in 36 in., 45 in. and 54 in. sizes.....$3.00 to $12.50

Offered for sale Monday morning

T. D. Whitney Company

Everything in Linens

Temple Place through to West Street
288 Boylston Street

Cinderella Ball to Draw Smart Set Tomorrow Night, Says Betty Alden

MISS ROSAMOND ADIE

Miss Rosamond ("Ros") Adie, who excels in horsemanship as well as amateur theatricals, is taking part in "Oh Boy" at the Tremont Theatre today and tomorrow. Miss Adie will be the heroine in the coming Vincent Club show.

By BETTY ALDEN.

AFTER tomorrow night's Cinderella Ball, society's dancing season will be practically over for the season '23-'24. At least for the older regime, the debutantes and their cavaliers still having a few Harvard affairs on the cards.

There are twenty-seven hostesses for the ball, each entertaining her guests at dinner preceding the affair. When the strains of the last waltz have died away at the stroke of 12:30, supper will be served, so that the affair will not exceed midnight's magic hour so strictly as the heroine of the famous fairy tale—after whom the ball is called—was fated to.

Mrs. Frederick S. Whitwell, who inaugurated the first Cinderella Ball a year ago, is, of course, outstanding among the hostesses. Along with Mesdames Clarence R. Edwards, Andre Brewster and J. Brooks Finner, Mrs. Whitwell is of the group giving their dinner at the Bonnet-act, where the dance takes place. Mrs. James Jackson is another of the twenty-seven hostesses, many of whom are having their dinner parties at home.

Mrs. ROBERT F. CLARK of Chestnut street is again giving her delightful act, "A Tourist's Impressions of Peru and the Peruvians." This time Mrs. Clark will give her talk on Saturday evening.

Shopping with Priscilla Price

She finds the unusual and tells of good values every day

FOR ST. PATRICK'S PARTY

MAKE A CENTERPIECE for your table by using a paper harp. Ten inches high, 10 cents. Paste wire at back and twist end into spiral stand. Cover bottom with shamrocks.

OR SURROUND IT with shamrocks in pots, standing on chocolate. 18 cents. Very cute.

PLATE CARDS are numerous. One kind is made of a green rose tied to a cigarette holder. 15 cents.

ANOTHER is a shamrock and a white pipe, 6 cents; another, decorated with a harp, 6 cents. Or, a small card with Nike and Bridge in sportive attitude, the dancing, he with a harp, 6 cents.

AT EACH PLACE put a green shoe, 15 cents. Green cordal rings or bottles of candy, 40 cents a pound, go in them.

FOR FAVORS use a shamrock. 1 cent. Or, a little shamrock at the same price. Can be worn in the buttonhole afterward.

PUT GREEN AND WHITE candies in a cottage of the same color. 10 cents.

IN THE STOMACH of a fat, yellow-vested figure, put candies. His green coat has tails and his black hat has a green band around it. His nose is pig-like-looking. 30 cents. Girls would love him.

LOLLYPOPS HAVE FACES and stand on two chocolate squares. 40 cents. Feeding. Decorative. Big fruits of green. Nice for the boys.

FIVE PIECES of shamrock-shaped chocolate are wrapped in green foil and tied with green ribbon. 15 cents a packet.

NO PARTY is complete without mottos. Lovely green ones, decorated, sell for $1.50. 12 in box. Contains snaps and a verse.

ANOTHER KIND is smaller, but lots of fun. 18 cents. Green, with girl, or boy, paired to front. Contains bonbon, hat and verse.

PLEASE ORDER THESE THINGS EARLY as the stores are getting them fast and we hate to have you disappointed at the last minute.

PRISCILLA PRICE.

H. B. When you want to know where to get anything, please write to me, care Boston American, 80 Summer Street. No reply made unless full name and address is given and stamps enclosed.

Copyright, 1924, by Boston American

RED TAPE HOLDS UP PAYMENTS TO CRIPPLES

Compensation for the Disabled Federal Employees Checked by Washington Ruling

Red tape at Washington, which cuts off compensation for disabled Federal employees until Congress amends the law, left thousands of sick and crippled women, former government employees, without means of support after last Friday when the last disability checks were sent out.

Letters have been received from Mrs. Jessie P. Brunsden, chairman of the U. S. Compensation Commission, notifying Greater Boston beneficiaries that Acting Attorney-General Seymour has held up further payments by finding that the Compensation General had no right to review the findings and awards of the commission.

Congress must act before sick and crippled veterans of Uncle Sam's service receive further financial assistance.

MERCIER FLAYS GERMANY AS RESPONSIBLE

Lays Europe's Present Plight to Berlin's "Evil Determination"

Brussels, March 3.—Cardinal Mercier, Belgium hierarch, was cardinal, issued a pastoral in which there are frequent allusions to the after-war disappointments, including the general impoverishment of Europe and the gathering of great fortunes by the profiteers.

He also scores Germany for her "evil determination," not to pay the allies, for she has received from the victors out of the question and for provoking economic perturbations, responsibility for which she falsely placed upon the allied governments.

"Meanwhile, until Germany pays,"

Navy Vet Trained in Salesmanship Ready for Job

A rehabilitated veteran of the United States Navy seeks a position as a salesman. He has been trained for four months in the Copley Business Institute and for two years at Boston University College of Business Administration. He is a quiet, unassuming man of average ability.

His placement training will continue until the end of May. A place is sought for him where there is some fair assurance of employment when the placement training ends.

He lives in Boston and is thirty-three years of age.

If you are interested in this man call Congress 1800—the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and ask for Case No. 44.

DEANARD FLORIDA, LTD. Daily from N. Y.—192 P. M. —adv.

TWO FAMILIES DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE

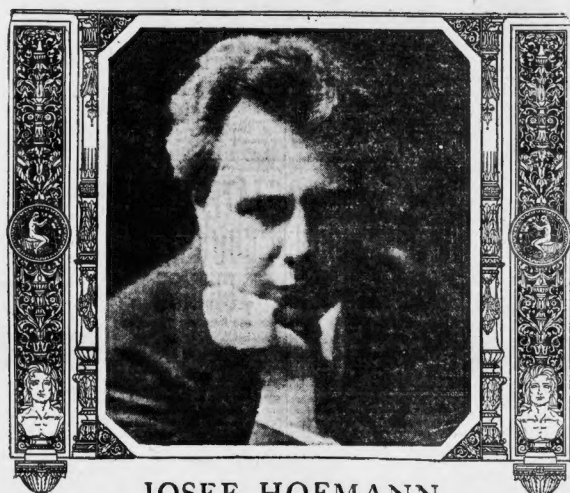

Passerby Alarms Eight From Sleep at Watertown Home Burns

A woman was carried to safety and seven other persons, including four children, were driven out in their night clothing by fire in the two-family house at No. 74-78 Belmont street, Watertown.

Mrs. Howard Forbes was carried out by her husband, after he had warned the family of Louis Pappas.

Mr. and Mrs. Suriner and their young daughter lived downstairs, while the Pappas family, father and mother and three children, were upstairs tenants.

"Fires resulted on Swift & Company sales of houses built in Boston for quick ending during March 1st, an ship, coming out, ranged from $100 cents to $125 cents per pound and averaged 12 1/2 cents per pound—adv.

JOSEF HOFMANN RECORDS EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE DUO-ART

"In the reproduction of my own playing, the Duo-Art is so far superior to any other instrument of its kind there can be no real basis for comparison. My Duo-Art rolls are indeed my actual interpretation with all that implies."

Josef Hofmann

Duo-Art Pianos $750 to $4650

only in

Steinway & Sons

Weber Steck Aeolian Stroud

Steinway & Sons

Steinert Jewett Woodbury — Pianos

Our pianos may be purchased on a deposit of 10% and balance throughout a period of two years. Liberal allowance for your old piano in exchange.

The Largest Stock of Victorrols and Victrol Records

The Latest DE FOREST LONG DISTANCE D-10 REFLEX SETS in Special Cabinets and Decks.

DV-2 Power Amplifiers

THORPHONE LOUD SPEAKERS

Steinert Service Unsurpassed

M. Steinert & Sons

Steinert Hall

162 Boylston Street

Downtown Building, 35 Arch Street

Stores in Providence, Pawtucket, New Haven, New Bedford, Bridgeport, Watertown, Bangor, Brockton, Fall River, Fitchburg, Lowell, Worcester, Springfield, Portland and other New England Cities

DOOMS SLAYERS OF BANK MEN TO CHAIR

Four Convicted of New York Murder Must Die Week of April 7

New York, March 2.—Supreme Court Justice Cragway today sentenced Morris and Joseph Diamond, brothers; John Farina and Anthony Pantano, bank messenger murderers, to die in the electric chair in Sing Sing during the week of April 7. The four recently were convicted at separate trials of the murder of two bank couriers and robbing them of $24,600 last November 14.

Cambridge, Eng.—Two airmen were killed and two injured when two royal air force planes collided over the Aerodrome today.

Corns

Don't risk blood poisoning by paring a corn. Apply Blue-jay the scientific corn remover. The pain will vanish instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Get Blue-jay today at your druggist.

Blue-jay

'THIRD PARTY IN BAY STATE' IF COOLIDGE RUNS

Johnson Manager Finds Tense Situation After Boston
Visit

New York, March 2.—"A third ticket may be named in Massachusetts and other New England States if President Coolidge is nominated. There will be no such ticket if Senator Johnson is nominated."

"Withdrawal of Johnson's nomination from the State is the second choice of many delegates from this State."

George H. Payne, eastern Presidential campaign manager for William Johnson, made that statement on his return from a tour of New England. He added:

"I was positively informed in Boston that the situation is so tense that, if nominated, President Coolidge will lose his home State by more than 150,000."

"It also came to me from most reputable sources that a third party may be formed if the President should run again. Any third party movement would come with the nomination of Johnson."

"Why has Senator Johnson's name been withdrawn from the New York primary contest?"

"This was done after frank consultation with regular party leaders. Many of them agree Coolidge will not be nominated."

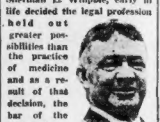

"Many of them declare Johnson is their second choice. Why arrange one then with a, perhaps, bitter personal fight? We have assurance that after the first ballot the name of President Coolidge will disappear, so far as New York's delegates are concerned."

BHNSON CHERTLE

"The Johnson situation here is

Sherman L. Whipple Has Birthday Tomorrow

The son of a country doctor, Sherman L. Whipple, early in life decided the legal profession held out greater possibilities than the practice of medicine and as a result of that decision, the bar of the United States gained one of its most distinguished members.

Mr. Whipple was born in the little town of New London, N. H., on March 1, 1861. He selected Yale as his alma mater and after graduation spent a year practicing in Manchester, N. H., but the opportunity of Boston beckoned and he opened an office here.

Tomorrow is his birthday. Send him a card or letter of congratulation to his offices in the Tremont building.

so satisfactory that he will visit New York the latter part of this month and deliver speeches. New Jersey is in fine shape. So is Maryland. It still sincerely believes Senator Johnson will be nominated and elected."

Die of Burns

Kenne, N. H., March 2.—Mrs. Laura Clark, seventy-eight, died at the Elliot Community Hospital as the result of burns received Sunday in her home in Gilsum. Her dress caught fire while she was working about the stove.

U. S. WARSHIPS SURROUND HONDURAS

Two Cruisers and a Destroyer Guard Lives of Americans

Washington, March 2.—The Republic of Honduras, embroiled in civil war which has endangered American lives and property, is completely surrounded by warships of the United States navy, the State Department announced today.

In addition to the cruiser Denver, anchored off Cuba, and the destroyer Billingsley, off Puerto Cortes, on the north coast, the destroyer Milwaukee has taken up a position at Amapala, on the south coast.

No orders have yet been issued for the landing of additional marines or soldiers to augment the forces at Cuba, but officials said today that the situation was alarming and that further fighting was anticipated within the next few hours.

According to consular advice to the State Department, rebel forces under General Pizarro, have captured the City of Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, and an attack on Tegucigalpa is being planned.

It was emphasized at the State Department today that the presence of American warships at Cuba is not to be construed as "intervention," but that the United States forces are in Honduras merely for the protection of American interests.

American naval commanders have been warned to observe strict neutrality and confine themselves only to the protection of American lives.

37 Agencies in Blossom Street Centre Guard Health of West End People

This is the eighth of a series of articles which is a sequel to this newspaper's investigation of medical quackery in Greater Boston.

If you are not acquainted with reputable physicians and wish to avoid the risk of obtaining expert advice and fair dealing, the series will show you how to avoid quackery by patronizing Boston's health center, the best in the country.

While doctors of doubtful ability are collecting thousands of dollars a Dental: For children of pre-school age, first grade and kindergarten, every day except Sunday, from 9 to 5.

Physiotherapy clinics, or, clinics for the administration of the Schick test, tetanization, typhoid and other serums, daily at 11 a. m.

NURSING INSTRUCTION.

Monday and Thursday: Well Baby Conferences for children up to the age of two, from 2 to 5.

Tuesday afternoon: Well Child Conference from 2 to 5.

Wednesday afternoon: Nutrition

TREATING CHILDREN AT WEST END HEALTH CENTRE.
Dr. Charles J. Wilinsky, Director of the Centre, giving the Schick test to Rose Sersky.

week from victims in and about Boston, the West End Health Centre at No. 17 Blossom street, West End, is giving the highest grade medical and dental service to scores daily without charge.

Thirty-seven agencies engaged in health and welfare work are organized to make up the health center. The particular function is to submit to the health of the men, women and children of the West End, and Boston's most noted physicians, surgeons and the men who stand at the tip of the dental profession, all give their services free.

The Boston Health Department is active in this health center—in fact all its highly trained specialists give of their time and attention to the clinics there.

The Health Centre was founded in 1916. Dr. Richard Cabot, Health Commissioner, Dr. N. Mahoney and Dr. Charles J. Wilinsky being active in its management. Dr. Wilinsky is the chief director of the center.

A review of the activities of the center indicates that particularly in the care of the health of children, the center is giving a service that ordinary channels should not undertake. Yet many people are still throwing their money away by paying big fees to quack doctors and men of no medical standing.

"This center is devoted exclusively to preventive work," said Dr. Wilinsky. "It represents the amalgamation of all health agencies in the Boston district. If there is a child needed to be vaccinated it is taken to one agency. If it needs a tooth pulled, to another and so forth."

ELIMINATES WASTE

Now, all of these agencies function from here, thus eliminating waste of time, duplicating and over-seeing. The best medical clinics are maintained between private and public institutions.

"We are trying to get the people away from and away from the idea of taking corrective medicine as a disease, preventive and waiting for bedside relief. If the foundation of good health is laid from birth up to 5 or 6 years of age, it is a pretty good health insurance for the rest of the years to follow."

"The health unit, although represented by thirty-seven health organizations of Boston, functions only for the people of this district. It is the headquarters, too for the City District Physician for the poor of the West End."

ADULT CLINIC NEXT

Not only do we treat the children of this neighborhood from birth, but also give preventive instruction to mothers which about a very important part in the development of their children's offspring. This is done through the kindness of the Community Health Service.

"Shortly, we are to open a clinic for the physical examination of adults under the supervision of a leading diagnostician. This will be in the nature of a physical stock taking to find out one's condition."

"It found to be defective, the patient will be referred to the proper source for correction. These clinics will be held Saturday evenings at a time to be announced later. We believe the evening will be the best time for the working adults to come."

"The dental clinic is run in connection with the Family Dental Institute of Boston. In 1923 more than 15,000 dental services were rendered."

"Every branch of the Boston Health Department is represented here, so that service may be brought right into the neighborhood."

Some of the clinics and hours are:

Saturday, 9 a. m.: Habit forming clinic.

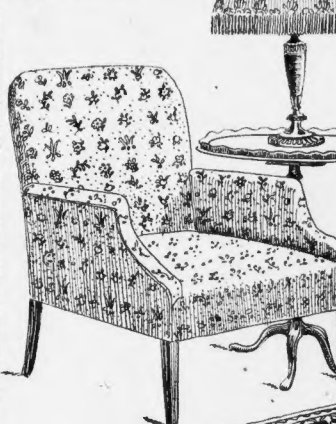

Red Cross club is serving instruction for girls between twelve and 14. Saturday at 10.

Thursday and Saturday, Posture Clinic at 11.

Saturday afternoon at 2, health talks to mothers. This consists of both a parent program and talks on prenatal, dental and medical care.

Thursdays at 11. Nose and Throat Clinic for examination of tonsils and adenoids.

New Boudoir Chairs in Sunfast Coverings

Paine's

Mail and Telephone
Orders filled while Stock lasts.

ENGLISH OCCASIONAL CHAIR SPECIAL AT $29

A chair that will add comfort and homeliness to living room or bedroom. Covered in attractive and durable tapestry. Workmanship thoroughly high grade. A few of these chairs arrived too late to be sold during the clearance. Hence the extremely moderate price for quick sale.

PAINE FURNITURE COMPANY

81 Arlington Street, Boston

Jordan Marsh Company

VALUE—QUALITY—SERVICE—ASSORTMENTS

The Loveliest Spring Lingerie

Delightfully feminine in her
Boudoir

Changeable Satin Boudoir Coats

LOVELY Changeable Satin Breakfast Coats, prettily trimmed with wheels of self material. Comes in attractive changeable effects 11.25

Corduroy Lounging Robes

CORDUROY Lounging Robes, with embroidered tuxedo collars, cuffs and skirt. All the wanted colors, at.... 7.95

If you would have that much admirable straight line silhouette

Avona Corsets

WOMEN'S AVONA Corsets, lightly boned model of pink silk broche with elastic top and three hose supporters. 5.00

A Long Brassiere

WOMEN'S Brassieres, designed to slenderize the figure. An extra long model that hooks in the back and is made of fancy pink fabric with elastic gussets in the back. 1.50

Avona Girdles

WOMEN'S AVONA Girdles (Sketches)—A new non-lacing model that gives the desired flat-back effect. Pink silk broche with sections of firmly knit elastic 7.50

Brassiere Girdle

A BRASSIERE Girdle that confines the bust and flattens the hips and back. Made of pink cotton broche with garters front and back. Hooks either front or back. 2.00

What Goes Underneath Your New Spring Costume

Novelty Vests and Step-In Drawers
DAINTY Colored Vests (Sketches)—Piped with contrasting colors and touches of dainty hand embroidery. Flesh, white and rose. Piped at a set. 1.50, 1.95 and 3.95

Of course—A Silk Petticoat
SILK Jersey Petticoats—With novelty pleated flounces in attractive color combinations, at..... 4.50

Novelty Nightgowns
MADE of fine quality novelty cotton materials (Sketches), trimmed with insertions of lace, flesh, orchid, white, peach and maize, at, each..... 1.00, 1.50 and 1.95

Hand-Made Nightgowns
A VERY pretty gown (Sketches), made of very fine French nainsook and trimmed with beautiful hand-made crochet and fillet laces. Several styles at..... 4.95

Glove Silk Bodice Style Vests, 2.25

OF good weight glove silk, neatly finished with picot edging. Comes in pink, orchid and peach. Extra sizes at 2.50. Knickers to match the above Vest..... 3.25 Extra sizes at 3.50

Georgette Negligees

AN Exquisitely Feminine Negligee, made of orchid, blue or pink georgette. Overdraped and trimming of dainty margot lace, at..... 22.50

Simon Pures of the Ring This Week

Fans will have to be contented with the amateur mitt wielders this week as the pro boxers are taking a rest. Every night funds the purses in action about Greater Boston.

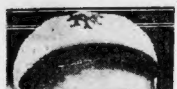

MONDAY, MARCH 3, 1921

SPORTING AMERICAN

OFFICIALS EXPECT A RECORD ENTRY FOR DAVIS CUP

WHO IS THIS PLAYER?

See the 1921 baseball opening free.
Do you know this ball player?
If you do, write in on coupon.
You may be one of the prize winners.

This young man has been one of the game's greatest fielders for quite a number of years.
He has played in World Series with two other big league clubs.
He's a good hitter, and rated as one of the smartest chaps in the game.
He has both right-handed and left.
Incidentally, he's one of the smallest players in the large leagues.
Do you know him?

200 tickets for Boston's first game will be given to fans for the season's opening at Fenway Park, 100 for the first Braves home game.
The first ten correct answers received daily will be awarded a prize. It's perfectly simple. No catch to it at all. Just fill out coupon and address your guess to Baseball Contest Editor, 90 Summer street, Boston, Mass.

Another Canadian hockey team is booked at the Arena this week. The Shamrocks of Ottawa, who play here on Friday and Saturday nights. The Ottawa sextet will oppose Boston College on Friday and the Maple Leafs on Saturday.

NO. 1 BOSTON AMERICAN BASEBALL CONTEST

This player is.....

TEN FREE Baseball Tickets a Day

My name is.....

No..... street.....

BAILEY STAKES CHANCES ON CHIN LOCK

Farmer Bailey, who claims the heavyweight wrestling championship of New England, had a remarkable season on the ropes. In twenty seven matches he has lost only two. In his contest this year with Jack Albright at Rochester, N. Y., he had drawn with "Toots" and with Joe Stetler to his credit. He plans to complete his training here.

Lewis Wants to Toss Gardini for the Eighth Time

There is a report that Stronger Lewis, world's heavyweight champion, is going to meet Renato Gardini, pugilist Italian wrestler, in a bout to be staged in Boston.

RICKARD READY TO FIGHT BIG SUIT

New York, March 2.—Tom Rickard declined to comment upon the $50,000 suit for alleged slander brought against him by Tom O'Rourke, veteran boxing man. Rickard contented himself with a statement that he had 30 days in which to answer, and that he would engage counsel.

CLEMENT AND BONNEL TO FIGHT FOR TITLE

Paris, March 2.—Andre Bonnel, light heavyweight champion of France, and Clement, the champion of England, have designated the International Boxing Union fight for the title of light heavyweight champion of Europe, taken over by Bonnel since, as the result of a decision not long after, won it from Georges Carpentier.

Egan Will Go School

Al Friedman, Willie Grodzinski, Joe Egan, all under the Eddie Mack colors, will go to Buffalo March 15, where they will meet three Buffalo boys at the big Auditorium in the town city March 17. Egan will lose Frankie Schell.

Giants Train With Medicine Ball

Pete Day, the only first baseman of the college, will be back at their regular berth at short and left field. Last year, Day, who has a record record of hitting fifty in more than twenty straight games, the formidable Chuck Daring, heavy hitter on the Eagle battery of first basemen, will be in the field. Right field is yet to be filled, due to the vacancy left in Comerford's graduation.

DEMPSEY MAY TAKE SHORT WALK TODAY

New York, March 2.—Jimmy Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, is confined to his room at the Polytechnic Hospital, where he was operated on for fistula. His condition is improving rapidly.

Luque Blanks Almendares

Havana, March 2.—Adolfo Luque, star pitcher of the Cincinnati Club, pitched for his Cuban team, the Vana Reds, and won from the Almendares team, 3 to 0.

Miller's Third Sacker Quits

Minneapolis, March 2.—Timmy Dougherty, third baseman of the Minneapolis club, has notified Mike Kelly that he has quit baseball and has gone into business in San Francisco, which may have something to do with Kelly's inquiries for a third baseman.

Basketball Notes

The West End Knights of Columbus and the Park A. A. of the same section tonight play the first of a three-game series to decide the championship of the West End, at Lancers' Hall, Bulfinch street.

Anglo-Texasian

The Italian is out to force George Katsouras to give him a return match and against Albright he must be at his best.

Anglo-Texasian

The Italian is out to force George Katsouras to give him a return match and against Albright he must be at his best.

Anglo-Texasian

The Italian is out to force George Katsouras to give him a return match and against Albright he must be at his best.

Anglo-Texasian

The Italian is out to force George Katsouras to give him a return match and against Albright he must be at his best.

Anglo-Texasian

The Italian is out to force George Katsouras to give him a return match and against Albright he must be at his best.

SHAMROCKS ARE BOOKED FOR ARENA

Another Canadian hockey team is booked at the Arena this week. The Shamrocks of Ottawa, who play here on Friday and Saturday nights. The Ottawa sextet will oppose Boston College on Friday and the Maple Leafs on Saturday.

Boston College Nine Starts Practice

The largest baseball squad ever to sign up for preliminary practice was expected to report at the Commonwealth Armory to Olaf Henriksen, coach of the Boston College baseball team.

Ragie prospects were never so good, but with such teams as Holy Cross, Georgetown, Fordham, Yale, Princeton, Penn State, Tufts and Williams on the schedule B. C. will have to do much to repeat its record of last year.

The 1921 season should be a winner. All except three veterans remain. Those who will not answer the call are Tony Comerford, catcher, right fielder; Frank Sullivan and Eddie Phillips, catchers. In place of Comerford there is a possibility that he will come back.

At O'Neill, substitute catcher for last year's squad, instead of the berth, but it would not be a surprise to see "Plaxie" Ward, halfback on the varsity eleven, as the catcher. Ward, a catcher, will not have regular practice. He will catch the entire baseball field.

The twirling stock is not extremely dim, although B. C. has had some of the set of Tomars. It had last year's pitcher, McCrehan, star of the Day Cross game, will miss his first game. He will not have regular practice.

The 1921 infield, one of the finest in the college world, is intact for the coming season. In fact, the infield is intact for the coming season. In fact, the infield is intact for the coming season.

TUFTS FIVE TO END SEASON SATURDAY

Tufts will close the baseball season this week. On Wednesday North-eastern will play the Junction at the Goodrich Gymnasium. Brown University and Tufts will clash in the afternoon.

NATIONAL INDOORS HELD WEDNESDAY

New York, March 2.—(Universally)—New champions are certain to be crowned in the National amateur indoor track and field championships here Wednesday night, for the reason that the time and luck of condition will keep quite a few of the present titleholders out of the competition.

WILLIE GRADWELL TO BOX ARCHIE WALKER

Matchmaker Coll Dodge of the Moody A. A. of Lowell has arranged a boxing match between Willie Gradwell of Lowell and Archie Walker of Lowell on Thursday night, when he will show Archie Walker of Lowell's premier lightweight, 130 to 140 pounds.

George Geran Is Still Nursing Grippe

Although George Geran is seen about the Arena, he is slightly under the weather nursing an attack of grippe. This has caused the brilliant local hockey player to lay off competing in the ice game.

MACK DECLARES BUCKLEY IS BLUFFING

"I see where Johnny Buckley, the manager of Jack Sharkey, will let his boy box Eddie Egan, if I will let him. Also Friedman has a Terry Parker, his star featherweight."

"Now Friedman is not a featherweight, and if Buckley does it I know the difference between a featherweight and a bantamweight. I'll tell him."

"I see Friedman is a natural 135 or 120 pounder, while Terry Parker is a legitimate 125 to 130 pounder. "Parker weighed in at 120 pounds on the morning of February 27, at Lowell, at 125 pounds, so he must have weighed 135 pounds when he stepped the scale and tired of seeing larger fight dumplings."

"Johnny Buckley is still bluffing because he knows the boxing commission will not stand for any more sense and also that they and the public are sick and tired of seeing larger fight dumplings."

"There is no champion, but a great trialhorse for any of the new sensations in the heavyweight class who think that they have the goods."

DOZEN MORE IN TUFTS CAGE

Twelve more candidates reported to Coach Nash of the Tufts College baseball team.

DOZEN MORE IN TUFTS CAGE

Twelve more candidates reported to Coach Nash of the Tufts College baseball team.

DOZEN MORE IN TUFTS CAGE

Twelve more candidates reported to Coach Nash of the Tufts College baseball team.

DOZEN MORE IN TUFTS CAGE

Twelve more candidates reported to Coach Nash of the Tufts College baseball team.

SHE KEPT STUDENT'S WEDDING SECRET

BOSTON AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

BOSTON, MONDAY, MARCH 3, 1924

A Good Home Newspaper
With Features for Children, for Women and for Men

SECTION
2

DEMANDS APOLOGY FOR 'INSULT'

Isadora Quits Poetic Husband 'For Good'

ADAMANTLY OBJECTS TO 'INSULT'

Barbara Kemp Says Metropolitan Head Must Apologize Before She Will Return

New York, March 3 (Universal).—"We were insulted and we're going home. Any more insult over the trouble will have to be done by Gatti-Casazza. An apology from him and Mme. Kemp perhaps will return to the Metropolitan Opera."

That was the farewell message from Barbara Kemp, German opera star, recently retired from the Metropolitan, as she and her husband, Ernest von Schilling, sailed for home aboard the new North Star Lloyd liner Stutgart.

HUSBAND ANGRY

It will be remembered that a few days ago the announcement was made that Barbara Kemp had been forced to relinquish her role in the Metropolitan opera because of illness.

It was said that she had been ill for some time, and that she had been forced to leave the opera because of illness.

It seems that Mr. von Schilling wanted to learn from the Metropolitan conductor whether or not he had a permanent job with the opera. He was told everything was satisfactory at one interview. Then, later, it was agreed that Madame Kemp could have her release if her husband would see for her Berlin Staats Opera, where he is director.

STAR 'INSULTED'

The clash came over whether the press would be told that "Madame Kemp was retiring because of illness" or "Madame Kemp was retiring because of artistic differences." Gatti-Casazza demanded the former explanation. Von Schilling the latter.

Both reached the press. Result: Gatti-Casazza was peeved; Ernest von Schilling and Barbara Kemp "insulted" over the muddled affair.

"We have nothing more to say," said the German composer, as the gangplank was lifted. "Mme. Kemp is going to sing in Berlin, and has offers from Vienna, Paris and San Francisco cities. We have also been asked to return here for a concert at Chicago. The Metropolitan does not again utter Gatti-Casazza's apologies. We were insulted by him and we're going home."

EX-BRAVES' PLAYER

HELD IN RUM CASE

Washington, March 3.—William Martin, former member of the Boston Nationals, was under arrest today charged with violating the prohibition law. Police raided the home of the doctor and his wife and discovered a large quantity of beer concealed beneath a pile of coal.

Cable Briefs

Berlin.—Minister of Labor, Heusch, says there are 6,000,000 unemployed persons in Germany and 16,000,000 dependent on public relief.

Mantle.—Bishop Charles E. Loefer of the Methodist Episcopal Church Mission left for the United States today.

Detroit.—The fifty-two Socialist members of the Assembly have resolved to vote the supplies in protest against the British government's "unsatisfactory response for a round table conference."

Constantinople.—All the members of the Caliph's harem are expected to sail for Alexandria March 15 in consequence of the movement for abolition of the caliphate.

Mexico.—Committee of the Independence Commission today reported that they had received $20,000 in contributions to carry on the independence campaign, and that total subscriptions promises to reach $50,000.

Song Bird Angry

All Gathered in Over Week-End; Breaks All Records for District Court

Sixty-three offenders charged with drunkenness faced Judge Barnes in East Boston Court today, the greatest number in the history of the court. All three were arrested since noon Saturday. All were taken into custody by the East Boston police, save one picked up by the Winthrop police.

Half the number of persons charged with intoxication were in the probation office, it being their first offense, while the remainder were dealt with by Judge Barnes, who declared the prisoners were more to be sympathized with than censured.

The highest number previously in the East Boston court of intoxication was in August, 1918. There were forty-eight offenders on that occasion.

All told there were 105 cases before the East Boston court today, of which twenty-two were sent here from a raid at No. 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

PACIFIC FLEET PAYS NEW YORK A VISIT

New York, March 3.—Led by the flagship Seattle, the Pacific fleet of ten battleships anchored up Hudson River today, paying New York its first visit since 1913.

Admiral Cress, commander in chief of the United States fleet, was on the Seattle. Other high officials were Admiral S. S. Robinson, commander of the battle fleet; Vice-Admiral H. A. Wilson, commanding the battleship divisions; and Rear Admiral C. B. Rutledge, Third and Fourth Divisions.

MRS. PERKINS, MOTHER OF HERO, IS BURIED

The funeral of Mrs. Michael J. Perkins, mother of the late Michael J. Perkins, hero of the Tanker Division, was held today from her home, No. 279 East Ninth street, South Boston. Solemn high mass of Requiem at 11 A. M. in the church was celebrated by Rev. Joseph C. Sullivan, Rev. Richard Burke, and Rev. Thomas Dwyer.

The funeral of Mrs. Perkins, mother of the late Michael J. Perkins, hero of the Tanker Division, was held today from her home, No. 279 East Ninth street, South Boston. Solemn high mass of Requiem at 11 A. M. in the church was celebrated by Rev. Joseph C. Sullivan, Rev. Richard Burke, and Rev. Thomas Dwyer.

Dies Suddenly

Wesley Welden, 65 years old, of No. 211 Harvard street, Cambridge, was taken ill today when he reached his office. He was taken to the Haymarket Relief Station and died on the way, probably from natural causes.

A CHANCE FOR KING RICHARD III.

At Lexington a hot contest was waged for the two vacancies on the Board of Selectmen, caused by the refusal of Talbot C. Blake and William S. Bennett to be candidates in successive elections. There are four aspirants: Theodore A. Cavanaugh, Charles H. Miller, James Alexander Wilson and Edward Wood. Edward Wilson and Robert W. Holt are battling it out for non-voter vote.

At Cambridge today the big fight is on the question of selling the municipal lighting plant, recommended by the local finance committee.

ONLY ONE CONTENT

At Hartford only one fight marked the week. It is the race for town selectman, being waged between Francis J. Kelley and Charles J. Parker.

The contest will be decided by Arlington voters. Arthur Birch and Frederick W. Hill are candidates.

The contest will be decided by Arlington voters. Arthur Birch and Frederick W. Hill are candidates.

63 DRUNKS POLICE IN EAST BOSTON BATTLE

All Gathered in Over Week-End; Breaks All Records for District Court

Sixty-three offenders charged with drunkenness faced Judge Barnes in East Boston Court today, the greatest number in the history of the court. All three were arrested since noon Saturday. All were taken into custody by the East Boston police, save one picked up by the Winthrop police.

Half the number of persons charged with intoxication were in the probation office, it being their first offense, while the remainder were dealt with by Judge Barnes, who declared the prisoners were more to be sympathized with than censured.

The highest number previously in the East Boston court of intoxication was in August, 1918. There were forty-eight offenders on that occasion.

All told there were 105 cases before the East Boston court today, of which twenty-two were sent here from a raid at No. 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

PACIFIC FLEET PAYS NEW YORK A VISIT

New York, March 3.—Led by the flagship Seattle, the Pacific fleet of ten battleships anchored up Hudson River today, paying New York its first visit since 1913.

Admiral Cress, commander in chief of the United States fleet, was on the Seattle. Other high officials were Admiral S. S. Robinson, commander of the battle fleet; Vice-Admiral H. A. Wilson, commanding the battleship divisions; and Rear Admiral C. B. Rutledge, Third and Fourth Divisions.

MRS. PERKINS, MOTHER OF HERO, IS BURIED

The funeral of Mrs. Michael J. Perkins, mother of the late Michael J. Perkins, hero of the Tanker Division, was held today from her home, No. 279 East Ninth street, South Boston. Solemn high mass of Requiem at 11 A. M. in the church was celebrated by Rev. Joseph C. Sullivan, Rev. Richard Burke, and Rev. Thomas Dwyer.

The funeral of Mrs. Perkins, mother of the late Michael J. Perkins, hero of the Tanker Division, was held today from her home, No. 279 East Ninth street, South Boston. Solemn high mass of Requiem at 11 A. M. in the church was celebrated by Rev. Joseph C. Sullivan, Rev. Richard Burke, and Rev. Thomas Dwyer.

Dies Suddenly

Wesley Welden, 65 years old, of No. 211 Harvard street, Cambridge, was taken ill today when he reached his office. He was taken to the Haymarket Relief Station and died on the way, probably from natural causes.

A CHANCE FOR KING RICHARD III.

At Lexington a hot contest was waged for the two vacancies on the Board of Selectmen, caused by the refusal of Talbot C. Blake and William S. Bennett to be candidates in successive elections. There are four aspirants: Theodore A. Cavanaugh, Charles H. Miller, James Alexander Wilson and Edward Wood.

Edward Wilson and Robert W. Holt are battling it out for non-voter vote.

ONLY ONE CONTENT

At Hartford only one fight marked the week. It is the race for town selectman, being waged between Francis J. Kelley and Charles J. Parker.

The contest will be decided by Arlington voters. Arthur Birch and Frederick W. Hill are candidates.

The contest will be decided by Arlington voters. Arthur Birch and Frederick W. Hill are candidates.

Held in Dope Raid

Old Roxbury Whaler's Trumpet Figures in Thrilling New York Drug Raid

New York, March 3.—An old whaler's trumpet of carved ivory, bearing the inscription, "Made in Roxbury, Mass., 1775," figured prominently in a terrific battle in a Chinese opium den at No. 94 Madison avenue, in which two detectives, two Chinamen and a Hartford, Ct., girl played prominent roles.

A warning scream by the girl, Mary Nelson, aged twenty-four, was all that saved one of the police from having a drink plunged into his face by one of the Orientals who the battle was at its height.

The whaler's trumpet, converted into an opium pipe by the police, was the only thing that saved the police from having a drink plunged into their faces by one of the Orientals who the battle was at its height.

The whaler's trumpet, converted into an opium pipe by the police, was the only thing that saved the police from having a drink plunged into their faces by one of the Orientals who the battle was at its height.

DEDDHAM FIGHT ON BUS LINE PERMIT

Elections Are Held in Four Other Greater Boston Towns Today

The eight of the four towns in Dedham to operate through the town of Dedham in the bus line, the election today.

The eight of the four towns in Dedham to operate through the town of Dedham in the bus line, the election today.

The eight of the four towns in Dedham to operate through the town of Dedham in the bus line, the election today.

The eight of the four towns in Dedham to operate through the town of Dedham in the bus line, the election today.

NAVY ADOPTS NEW TRAINING PLANE

Washington, March 3.—A new Boeing training plane, equipped with interchangeable landing gear, has been selected by a special board of officers at the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla. for student naval aviators and cadets. The plane is a single-engine, low-wing, biplane, with a fixed landing gear, and is the J-4.

The Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department announced today that the choice of the plane was made by a special board of officers at the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla. for student naval aviators and cadets.

The Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department announced today that the choice of the plane was made by a special board of officers at the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla. for student naval aviators and cadets.

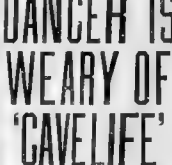

SLIDES TO DEATH IN HOT CINDERS

At a hotel in New York City, a fire broke out in a room, and the fire spread rapidly, causing the death of a man and a woman.

DIES IN STREET CAR ON WAY TO WORK

Hugh T. Kennedy, seventy-five, of No. 100 West 10th street, New York City, died today in a street car, while on his way to work in the city.

DANGER IS WEARY OF 'CAVELIFE'

Sends Temperamental Sergeant Home and Signs to Return to the U. S. A.

Moscow, March 3 (T.N.S.).—Tired of getting him out of all and weary of paying for things he threw at her when in the throes of a temperamental to which the word "artist" would be misapplied, Isadora Duncan has broken for good and all with Serge Esenin, her poet husband.

She has returned him to the bosom of his own family, having secured an order from the Soviet government to return to the U. S. A.

She has returned him to the bosom of his own family, having secured an order from the Soviet government to return to the U. S. A.

She has returned him to the bosom of his own family, having secured an order from the Soviet government to return to the U. S. A.

FOR STYLE FOR RELIABILITY

Successful business men are not born—they're made—by their own efforts.

Same with clothes; good tailoring makes style, fit and wear.

Good clothes from this store help men to be successful. And, by the way, a Blue Serge is an excellent suit for all-round Spring wear.

All-wool, guaranteed not to fade, and extra value at

$30

Other Blue Serge Suits for Men and Young Men, $25 and $35

Of course our forty-year policy of returning your money means perfect satisfaction

For Service For Economy

Bernard M. Wolf

Established 1883

339 TO 343 WASHINGTON ST.—HEAD OF MILK ST.

Four Floors for Men and Boys

Women Are Grateful

FOR the help Priscilla Price gives them. She will help you. See Page 4.

Magazine Parade

The Beautiful, but Bluntly Honest
Story of a Boston Girl

By ELENORE
MEHERIN

"CHICKIE"

Seething Life of a Lovely Boston Girl of This Strange Today

THE STORY OF "CHICKIE" THUS FAR

Chickie Barry's first romance ended disastrously. At seventeen she had created the illusion that Arthur Boston, a school chum, was going to propose to her, but when he announced he was going away she was broken-hearted. Then Chickie's chum, Mary Blake, was married. At eighteen Chickie secured a position in a broker's office and there met Janina, a girl wise in the ways of the world. Jimmie, Mary's brother, declares his love for Chickie, but she puts him off. Chickie meets a number of men and finally goes on a party with Jake Hanson and a bunch of his friends, but her father is alarmed over what he terms his girl's waywardness. Barry Dunne calls at the Barry home, and, contrary to expectations, Chickie's father received him kindly. They go for a ride and Chickie gets her first kiss. Surprised but happy, she thinks only of Barry, but next day meets Jake on the street and is persuaded to dine with him.

"Oh, you'll be likely to stay home! Don't worry about that. And pulling Barry off with you! Querred yourself there, too."

"Well, never you mind about that, Janina!" She went to her door and looked over her shoulder at the window. Twice during the morning she was aware that he was staring over. She didn't look.

But early in the afternoon, when she came streaming like a yellow banner across her typewriter, she stood up, reaching for some papers. She looked down, knowing that he was there. He threw back his head, staring at her and smiling. He drew his lips full out and smiled, together. Then he laughed.

He went back to his desk, a nervous spring in his thoughts. He took a pencil and made a note on the margin of some legal papers. Then he fell to wondering. The dear, beautiful thing—and clever, too. He never expected that. He could feel her soft hands; he could see her pretty eyes, startled when he had suddenly awakened and her lips clinging so gently to him.

Girl Thrilled Him
More piercing than this, he saw her sitting motionless and unresponsive, her hands clasped in her lap. Something appealing and wistful and ever so girlish in the beauty of her face caught him by a strange, persistent thrill.

She said she didn't like men. Could that be true? A girl with that hair and eyes and dear little mouth like that. No—the countess, quite before that. But that old dad of hers—dancing old—chickie all this. True or not—she was a wonder—a prize—different from others—he would meet her as she came from work.

Barry Dunne was a young man not yet twenty-four, full of life and vigor. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

He liked the girl, but she was a puzzle. He had suffered terribly because of his red hair and terrible freckles. It was a surprise to him, coming to manhood, to find himself attractive to women. He couldn't at first believe it. He was a little bit of a misanthrope. He rather enjoyed experimenting with the girls, but he was a little bit of a misanthrope.

He had "long days," as he was called by Chickie. For all that, he was a pleasant, kind young man.

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a misanthrope.

Tuesday at noon Janina came up and put her arm about Chickie with her old-fashioned "Don't be so nervous, Chickie. I'll forget it, if you will. Let me come to lunch with you."

"You'll, Chickie?"

"Yes, Janina—yes, you were this much to me. There are a good many things I have to say to you. You are at least a chance to square myself. Do you think you treated me fairly?"

"Maybe not."

"Well—you know." A faint smile coursed his lips. The pose of this little, slim thing sitting down and putting her arm about him, who could have had any of a dozen man who had "played about" lightly and doing as little harm as possible. He had no unholy or very cruel ghosts in his closet.

He took the phone and here, asked her to wait just outside the building for him. She tried to keep her voice low, but it fluttered excitedly.

Janina sat opposite him. Chickie wondered if she had heard. A little before 5 she attacked her papers, but then really and swiftly in the wire basket.

"What's your hurry?" Janina drawled.

Chickie took her hat, left quickly without answering.

"Let's hurry," she said to him without greeting. "I don't want to see you looking over once this morning."

"I couldn't."

"Why? Did Janina make it for you?"

"No—I should care about Janina's."

"Good for you! Listen—I have to go tonight and tomorrow; but how about Wednesday night?"

"I don't know. What about it?"

"I'll be good!"

"All right, then."

He held her hand a moment, and looking square at her, pursed his lips. Underneath his happy-go-lucky manner was a strong, potent streak that made him a bit of a mis

A HUMAN personal service that gives satisfaction to the giver and help to the helpless. See last page daily.

Send in your recipes and menus, housewives of New England; then watch this column every day for announcement of prize awards.

INDIAN PUDDING.

Five cups scalded milk, 1-8 cup Indian meal, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup molasses, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon ginger. Pour milk slowly on meal, cook

DRAKE'S
Pure Food
CAKE

ADAM has hardly a hook left to hang his laughter at women's fancies on. Where in the Flora-dora hat of yesterday-year, with its high scoop front and its little sheaf behind to pin the lady's hair; or the hooded crown of the day in the short-weighted skirt, in what libretto of old fashions wanders the stiffened, balloon sleeve—the over-stuffed pompadour—the unnatural bustle—the cut-throat collar with two whale-bone lances under the chin—these are gone!—these and many more torments for poor Eve!

Eve suits Adam pretty well these days I should think. She wears her hat on her head now, instead of on her hair; and curls and hair-pins are almost extinct. Corsets are things that most of us females don't even recognize when we see

Instead of waiting till beet is cool to pare them put them at once out of the boiling water into a bowl of cold water; then rub with the hands and you will find they are done at once, and more evenly than with a knife.

The symptoms of dyspepsia may be nausea or vomiting, or a mere distressed feeling after eating. Loss of appetite, with resultant weakness, may be a symptom.

PARIS, France.—A delightful, fresh and sunny morning at Monte Carlo, brought out the fetching white costumes, clad in monte Carlo, straight out the retching white costume, sleeked on the left. Starting at the top there was a small, soft felt hat, white, even to the tiny feather perched jauntily at one side. White flannel made the long, straight coat with its fluffy collar and cuffs of white moulton. An inverted box-pleat was laid vertically in the back of the garment, while the same idea was carried out on each sleeve and upon the huge patch-pocket. A white flannel sport-skirt with a crepe overblouse, white doekin gloves and white shoes and stockings completed the appropriate outfit.

Should a mother with an ordinary colostrum in her breasts nurse her baby?

MRS. D. W. G.
The danger of infecting the child is great. Colds are contagious and often affect infants seriously. It is not necessary to stop nursing, but while nursing, the mother should cover her mouth and nose with

What a Delightful Dish
Baked Beans can be bought ready cooked and they really make a far more appetizing dish when seasoned with the famous

LEA & PERRIN SAUCE

Quick
Quaker
cooks in 3 to 5 minutes
Makes Oats the Quickest Breakfast

Year greer now has 2 styles of Quaker Oats—Quick Quaker and regular Quaker Oats, the kind you've always known.

For a hot breakfast quick, ask for Quick Quaker.

Cooks in half the time of coffee—scarcely longer than simple toasted bread.

Same plump oats as regular Quaker Oats. But cut before cooking, rolled very thin and partly cooked—smaller flakes that cook faster, that's the only difference.

All that rare Quaker flavor. All the joy of hot breakfasts without bother or delay.

Quaker Oats, too
2 styles at grocers' now.
Quick Quaker and Quaker
Oats, the kind you've always known.

ight as well ave ne best

Beam

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps. Send 12c in silver or stamps for our NEW BOOK OF FASHIONS

Boston American Pattern Coupon

Pattern No. _____

Size _____

Name _____

Street _____

City _____

State _____

Fill out and mail (enclosing 10 cents) to: Prickly Price, Boston American, 50 Summer Street, Boston 5, Mass.

Two line notation

Mile. Napierkowska, classic dancer of the Paris Opéra, testifies: "The remarkable soothing effects of Baton Oudun make it the finest toilet soap I have ever used."

FROM the very first moment that you use this great French complexion soap you will experience a pleasure that you probably have never before enjoyed. You will also appreciate the after effects on the skin. A tall, good, 25c.

HELPFUL HENRY

By Arnot

THEN THE FUN BEGAN

By Faber

LET THE WEDDING BELLS RING OUT

Kabibble Kabaret

Copyright 1954 International Feature Films, Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office

DEAR MR KABIBBLE BY HERBERT
I AM A POOR FELLOW: IF I TAKE MY GIRL TO A SHOW WAY UP IN THE GALLERY DO YOU THINK SHE WILL UNDERSTAND ? — — —
ONLY IF IT'S IN PANTOMIME !!

BRINGING UP FATHER

Jiggs Is Suffering, Too

See the author of this comic strip
at the Park Theatre performances.

By George McManus

ABIE THE AGENT

Literature for the Home

See the author of this comic strip
at the Park Theatre performance.

By Hershfield

GOLDBERG'S CARTOONS

Exercise Shouldn't Interfere With Business

By Rube Goldberg

JERRY ON THE JOB

The Long and the Short of It

By Hoban

THE THIMBLE THEATRE

Speedily Settled

By Segar

KRAZY V A FTY

It's a Cruel World

By Herriman

TRAVEL BRIEFS

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL

By BOBBIE SHAFTEE

SPECIAL EASTER TRIP TO BERMUDA.
For two or three days, Bermuda's island of sunshine beckons the vacationer. Here every day is a June day, and every hour filled with the joy of living. Sounded by only four-night hours from New England, the island is a haven of rest and relaxation. The island is a haven of rest and relaxation. The island is a haven of rest and relaxation.

Quick reach of London and the continent, the island is a haven of rest and relaxation. The island is a haven of rest and relaxation. The island is a haven of rest and relaxation. The island is a haven of rest and relaxation. The island is a haven of rest and relaxation.

The traveler who wishes to visit the beautiful island of Bermuda, should take the steamer "London" which leaves New York every day at 10 a. m. and arrives in Bermuda at 10 p. m. The steamer "London" is a fine ship, and the trip is a most enjoyable one.

A series of special tours have been arranged by the Bermuda-Boston line to meet the requirements of the throngs of Easter visitors, and a variety of trips can be made at little as $19, including steamer and land accommodations and sightseeing. Nine-day tours are $111 and twelve days $129 minimum price. Bermuda is a most interesting place.

LINCOLN CATHEDRAL.
England is a country of rich meadows, of epic and of the finest of the world's great cathedrals. The Lincoln Cathedral is a fine example of the English Gothic style. It is a most interesting place to visit.

MIAMI BEACH REGATTA.
Motor boat enthusiasts from all over the United States are gathered in Miami Beach, March 7 and 8. The regatta is a most interesting event, and the weather is most favorable.

TOM MOORE'S HOME IN ENGLAND.
The sights of Bermuda are numerous and novel, and include wonderful gardens, coral reefs, and the famous "Pink Palace." The island is a most interesting place to visit.

THE LIVERPOOL.
Modern transatlantic travel can give nothing more delightful than a voyage on one of the magnificent new Cunarders. The ship is a most interesting place to visit.

WINTER SPORTS.
With Spring just about the corner, conditions are still excellent for winter sports. The weather is most favorable, and the scenery is most beautiful.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

THE HELPING HAND.
Continued from Editorial Page. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help. I am not one to need much help.

Real Estate

With the coming of spring the Real Estate market will flourish. Prices will be higher. Now is the time to buy your own home.

Select a home conveniently and save money through the Real Estate columns below.

DEATHS.
MALONE, Mrs. J. Elizabeth, widow of the late John Malone, died at her home, 100 North Street, South Boston, March 3, at 8 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

DEATHS.
MANNING, Mrs. South Boston, March 3, at 10 a. m. Cause of death, cancer. Burial at St. John's Church at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

IF YOU ONLY KNEW

how much easier and better it is to shop through the American's classified columns! Less seeking and sure saving—that's The American's classified way.

LOST AND FOUND.
LOST—A small black and white cat, white tipped tail, 1 month old, missing since March 1st. Reward $5.00. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

USED AUTO—TRUCKS.
1924 Durant Touring car, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine, 1200 cc. engine. Price $1200. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

"Two Years ... Splendid"

"I have been using The American's classified columns for the past two years. Because of the splendid results obtained, I would like to take advantage of your special Real Estate contract rate."

CHARLES J. ROCHE.
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 40
New and used pianos and other instruments. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

WEBBER JUNK CO.
Selling all kinds of junk and household goods. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

CAPRI RESTAURANT.
Serving Italian food and drinks. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.
Selling all kinds of musical instruments. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

REAL ESTATE.
Selling all kinds of real estate. Call J. P. Collins, 100 Summer St., Boston.

The news, entertainment, education, and helpful services have made the Boston American the largest home-delivered newspaper in New England.

College Men Improve

President Murlin's Optimistic Views

President Murlin of Boston University tells us the American college student is today a more moral, healthy, clean young fellow than he was a generation ago.

He attributes this fact to the benefit of greater freedom and self-discipline than the boy enjoyed a generation ago. Both parents and instructors advise more today and order less. President Murlin believes healthy young men of the college class go farther on honor than those of the past.

"The college student," says President Murlin, "today thinks more for himself, looks life more squarely in the face and has greater self-reliance than his prototype of 1894." Of course this generalization by Mr. Murlin is not conclusive, but it is interesting and significant, for Mr. Murlin is an educator of long experience and is a man of ability who can look facts squarely in the face.

It is especially interesting and important to note that Mr. Murlin insists the college student thinks more independently than he did thirty years ago.

The most lamentable thing in higher education in America in the last generation was the failure to develop any real independent thinking. The college student was a good deal like the ordinary clerk whose struggle with pencil and paper permitted him to keep his hands soft and his clothes clean and thus permitted him to dress like men of wealth.

This opportunity to show "class" in his opinions, even to his own great economic loss.

The student, too, affected great contempt for those who had not gone to college unless they happened to have accumulated wealth. They reflected back the views of their professors, and their opinions were always tinged with conventionalities and the sub-consciousness that they were the views of the college man.

If this weakness of higher education has been overcome and the students really do think more for themselves than they did thirty years ago, then their usefulness to the republic will be greatly increased.

The Farmers' Share

He Needs More of Those Fifteen Billions

Senator Capper of Kansas spoke in Springfield the other day on subjects relating to the farmer. Senator Capper is a very active man, and in speech at least, is nearly always on the side of the farmers.

He spoke at the annual banquet of the Eastern States Farmers' Co-operative Exchange. He said:

"When the farmer sells, he sells to an organized market—the market organized to take speculators' profits. When he goes into the market to buy, he buys from an organized market. The farmer is the only unorganized group in a highly organized business and industrial community. Therefore, the twenty-four million farmers only get seven and a half billion dollars for products for which the consumers pay twenty-two and a half billion dollars.

That is to say, the farmer gets less than one-third of the price at which his products are sold to the consumer. Speculators, middlemen and railroads get the other fifteen billion.

Let the consumers as well as the farmers consider what this signifies and what a foundation it lays for an organization of farmers and consumers to fight back and get their fair share out of the fifteen billions which the consumers pay and which the farmers do not get.

If the consumer and the farmer could get his share of that fifteen billion which goes to the speculators in the middlemen and the railroads, the farmers would be prosperous once more and the consumers would enjoy a great reduction in the cost of living.

Few Questions About a Poem

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

Is this real poetry?

Without divulging its source either as to author or publication, we are printing below a recently discovered poem (?) and we ask you is it real poetry?

The lines are as follows:

She shall speak to me, in places lone,
With a low and holy tone.
Aye! When I have lit my lamp at night,
She shall be present with my spirit;
And I will say, whatever it be,
Every word she telleth me.

This verse, which in the author's manuscript bears the title, "She Shall Speak to Me," is said to be a response to one of the most glorious sonnets in the English language, inspired by one of the most passionate natures and greatest souls in modern literature.

What is poetry? Does this verse, which will be discussed by the most learned scholars and students of poetry on two continents, answer your definition of poetry?

Without knowing its author or its history, would you think it worth pasting in your scrapbook or reciting to your friends?

How does it compare with your favorite poem, for of course, you have one?
Do you think it as good poetry as Ella Wheeler Wilcox wrote?

They Need Us

But They Won't Get Us

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

Very truly, Europe and also some Americans of a European mind tell you that the League of Nations without us, the U. S. A., is not perfect.

Of course it isn't. A luncheon party of impetuous gentlemen is not perfect unless they can take some person along to pay the bill.

A man starting a new comic opera company can't afford his undertaking perfect until he finds an angel with cash to interest himself in the budding genius of the prima donna. Fortunately, however, Uncle Sam doesn't intend to be the angel, or have the bill for the lunch handed to him, or the bill for more war material, or other European nonsense. Europe will stop financial wars when the funds that she has got to pay for them after she has started them.

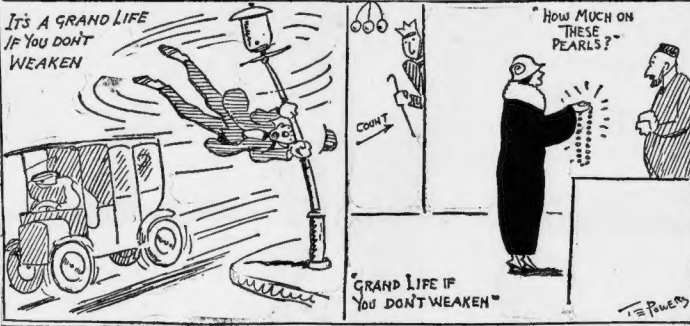

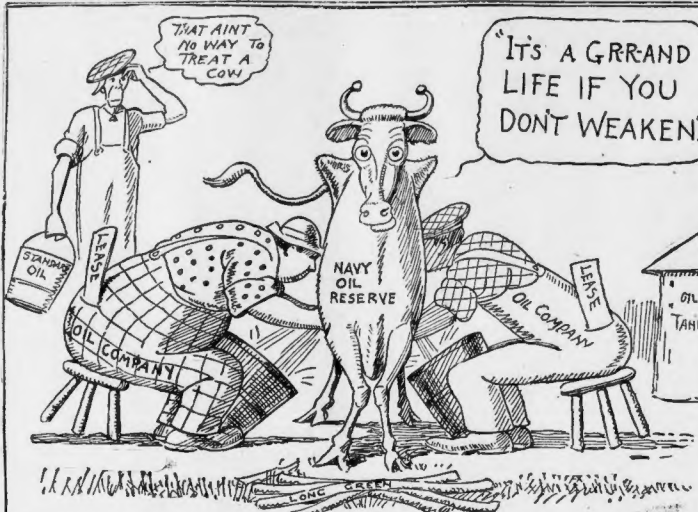

BOSTON AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England—March 3, 1924

We'll Tell the World

By T. E. Powers

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

LISTEN, WORLD! By ELSIE ROBINSON

THAT'S a great phrase—"SNAP OUT OF IT!"

Don't sit around pawing over your sins, fumbling your hates, snuffing at your miseries, waiting for something to happen. SNAP OUT OF IT!

Grab yourself by the scruff of your neck and the slack of your jeans and prod a spigot of the twentieth century and there are many who regard it with disfavor. They were brought up to believe that the way to attain salvation was to spend a lot of time over yourself.

For instance, there was that popular, year-round sport, Repentance. Really sincere saints were supposed to bury their sins every so often and then dig them up again and sniff over them to see if they weren't a little bit rottenner than they were last time. It was a highly edifying procedure! The mid-week prayer meeting in those days used to sound like a particularly colorful inquest.

Of course, all folks weren't lucky enough to have Bad Pasts. Some unfortunate human beings simply have no talent whatever for sinning. So lacking Sins, they specialized in Tribulations. Almost anything can be turned into a Tribulation if you try hard enough. Collecting Tribulations was as popular as collecting postage stamps or birds' eggs.

SO SNAP OUT OF IT! Snap out of it now, today, this minute. Give yourself such a quick change of air that it will make you dizzy. The Gang needs you! The World is open to you! Shake a leg and bid the open trail! What's the use of planting daisies over yourself forty years before they hang like crepe upon your door?

Heave your sins on the junk pile, where they belong, and then go off and forget them. Stop brooding over your sorrow and hate. And let loose a cleansing flood of happiness and love in your life instead. Stop talking about your afflictions. You might talk until you were blue in the face, and you could never convince the other chap that your misery was a patch on his. And what would you gain if you could convince him?

SO SNAP OUT OF IT! Snap out of it now, today, this minute. Give yourself such a quick change of air that it will make you dizzy. The Gang needs you! The World is open to you! Shake a leg and bid the open trail! What's the use of planting daisies over yourself forty years before they hang like crepe upon your door?

(Copyright, 1924, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE HELPING HAND

Letters Not Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls or Anonymous Letters. Name Published.

to earn a little.

Thank you, both for the money and the offer of work. The money has been forwarded to Mrs. H. H. H. and she has been asked to get in touch with you.

Need Clothes Badly

Editor Helping Hand: I wonder if you could be so kind as to give me some of your wonderful help. You see we are entirely out of clothes. My poor husband has to go to and from work the way he is dressed. There is my husband and a baby girl one year old, my aged mother and a crippled brother of twenty to provide for. It takes all my husband's wages for rent and a bare ground. I would be so thankful if some of your kind readers could aid me. My husband wears built also waist measure 34, shoe size 7. Anything will do for my brother, as he has not worked for twelve years. He is always in his chair. My mother takes size 40, and I take size 34. Please try to help me. MRS. M. A. W.

Appreciation

Editor Helping Hand: I received some clothing for my little two-year-old boy from Mrs. S. I want to thank her but do not know her address, so will you please publish this letter? I appreciate the things more than I can ever say. I have received other help, but have sent such a personal letter of thanks. MRS. L. M. C.

Deserted by Husband

Editor Helping Hand: As I have seen so much help given by you, I am writing to see if you could help me. My husband deserted me two years ago and left me with two children. I have managed until now to keep them with the help of my sister, whom I live with. Now I have met with misfortune. I have to put my little girl out to board with a family. My little boy is very sick in the City Hospital. It is for anyone who would have some things to make over or fit a little girl five years old and a boy eight years old. I take size 36. When I work a whole week I only get fourteen dollars and I have to pay five dollars for my little girl's board. MRS. H. S.

Generous Assortment

Editor Helping Hand: I have some things to give to needy people. Some children's clothes, including Winter coat, rubber boots, rubbers, blue shoes and other things as seen and under. Also men's shirts, blue pants, woolen pants and a lady's Winter coat for a small woman. If you know of anyone who would like these things and could call for them, they are welcome. Continued on Page 10.

Charity begins at home—read the "Helping Hand" at home tonight and you can begin to help tomorrow.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON TWO LINES OF GREAT POETRY

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

IT HAS the flavor of ecstasies for any writer to declare that such and such is the best book of the year, that this play is the best of the season or that any work of art surpasses all others.

What the writer means is that is what he thinks. The decision of what is best is always a matter of taste. No one has a right magisterially to pronounce that blue is a better color than red, that blondes are prettier than brunettes, that the odor of violet is more pleasant than that of lilac, that Republicans are more honest than Democrats, nor, by the same token, that one novel is better than another.

What I am preparing the reader's mind for is my declaration that in the poem "The Debt," by Katherine Lee Bates, in a recent issue of the Atlantic Monthly, there occur the finest two lines that have been composed by any author in the last ten years. All of which means simply that I think so.

These two lines are as follows:

"Because the years are few, I must be glad;

Because the silence is so near, I sing;

At first glance there does not seem to be much disturbing in this phrase. It contains no long words, nor curious nor far fetched images.

But somehow, when a friend of mine repeated these two lines to me, and I heard them for the first time, I had that rare sensation that comes not so often in a lifetime, the sensation that Keats describes that he had on reading Chapman's Homer:

"Then felt I like some watcher of the skies

When a new planet swims into his ken."

Afterwards I got a copy of the magazine and read the whole poem. There are some twenty-four lines in it and they do not at all measure up to the two lines, but that could hardly be expected. No poem, no book, no play contains more than one or two lines of flashing genius, few, indeed, that much. The two lines I refer to seem to me to have a touch of inspiration truly divine. They are worthy companions to those amazing words of Wordsworth:

"But she is in her grave, and oh

The difference to me."

I have hardly ever been able to utter this Wordsworthian simplicity without tears crowding up. It illustrates what a rare, strange, and elusive thing real poetry is. It seems to consist entirely in some sort of scent from another world, some half flutter of a spirit's wings.

You will notice how utterly simple and commonplace the words are in both the quotation from Wordsworth and in these others of Katherine Lee Bates. I sometimes think that the more common and ordinary the medium of our expression the more likely we are to touch sublimity.

This phrase to which I am referring, read it aloud:

"Because the years are few, I must be glad;

"Because the years are few, I must be glad;

and observe the smooth felicity of the syllables, how perfectly they express the very best argument for courage and cheer, the argument of the brevity of life, of the golden privilege of the present, the same thought that is expressed in Stevenson's declaration:

"For the true happiness of mankind is not to arrive, but to travel."

Strangely enough the same logic that is used by the wastrel when he cries, "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die," and is made an excuse for beastliness, is also the reason for our pure love, our highest endeavor, and our noblest joy.

Let us omit no gesture of affection, no words of kindness and sympathy, no indulgence in the rare pleasures of noble and worthy emotions. "For the night cometh;"

"Because the years are few, I must be glad;"

Because the silence is so near, I sing."

Copyright, 1924, by the Metric Newspaper Syndicate.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON A CHEMICAL MARVEL

By Garrett P. Serviss

AMONG the chemical marvels of this world, the non-metallic element called selenium is one of the most curious. It is the cunning aid that it offers to man in dealing mechanically with electricity. Selenium helps us to do some things that we could not do otherwise. It is by virtue of its remarkable sensitiveness to slight changes of light, which cause corresponding changes in its electric conductivity.

This a cell of selenium serves as a transmitting agent between luminous and electric effects. It is probable that but a small portion of its possible utility has as yet been brought into action.

There is a suggestion of strangeness about the action of selenium, whose electric variations are so well known in the telephone into sounds which are heard by the ear.

By an ingenious device the effect of the light on the selenium cell, which is connected in circuit with a telephone receiver, is transformed into the receiving telephone into sounds which are heard by the ear.

After a little practice it is said, words can be read in this fashion as the average man reads by the eye.

As selenium has a very low melting point, this feature of others that will translate light and color into music, and enable the blind to perceive the world and the people about them by means of light transformed into sound.

Selenium occurs in various forms, and is usually found associated with other elements. It occurs in volcanic rocks, in Hawaii and Japan. It combines with copper, lead, mercury, silver and other metals, as selenium, a transparent compound.

An original photographic film is so placed with reference to selenium cell that when light is transmitted through the selenium upon the cell, by corresponding variations in the intensity of the electric current that is produced through the circuit to the place where the picture is to be reproduced.